

Harold and the Purple Crayon Activity Card

Dear Families - Harold's adventure combines imagination and consequences. Ask your Head Start child to imagine a journey with one exciting moment. (Some children may need a bit of help to get started on this.) If you have a purple crayon or pen at home, use that to have your child draw his or her adventure's picture below. [HINT: Young children's drawings are often quite simple, and may not look at all like the object they are seeking to draw. Be accepting and complimentary of any effort your child makes.]
