

The Legend of the Indian Paintbrush Activity Card

Dear Families - The Legend of the Indian Paintbrush is a wonderful story to teach children about being true to themselves. It also offers children a chance to think about what makes colors. To complete this activity with your child, you will need to find the fruits, vegetables and flowers when they are in season. With your child, press the object in the box for juice so some juice is left on the paper. When it dries, record the date and ask your child to tell you what color Little Gopher could have made from this plant.

Fruits, Vegetables, Flowers	Press the juice in this box	Date/Comments strawberry		We pressed this juice out on _____ (date). When it dried it looked... carrot		We pressed this juice out on _____ (date). When it dried it looked... blueberries		We pressed this juice out on _____ (date). When it dried it looked... dandelion		We pressed this juice out on _____ (date). When it dried it looked... celery		We pressed this juice out on _____ (date). When it dried it looked...