

When This Box Is Full Activity Card

Dear Families - Young children need to learn about the cycle of the year. When it winter, families engage in certain types of activities, and when it is summer, they do very different kinds of things. In the boxes below are the names of the months of the year. At the bottom of this page are objects mentioned in When This Box is Full. Help your child paste the objects in the proper box, talking about HOW the children in the book might have gotten and used each object.

January	February	March	April
May	June	July	August
September	October	November	December
